2017 Texas Behavioral Health Institute Awards

Don’t Miss the Opportunity
Nominate a Deserving Individual or Organization Today

Do you know an individual or organization deserving recognition for their efforts in the behavioral health field?

Please take the time to complete a nomination form online by clicking here.

The deadline for submission has been extended to Friday, June 9.

Individual of the Year Awards
Public Citizen of the Year and Elected Official of the Year

Sometimes just one person can make an incredible difference in a community that impacts the quality of life for persons with mental illness and/or substance addiction or promotes the importance of substance use prevention. It may be a volunteer who went above and beyond in helping a center or person in need or a staff member who created an innovative program, worked with a client, or educated their community. Valued help can also be found from an elected official—a mayor, council member, representative and other serving his or her community—who galvanized their constituents, created a program or changed policy that positively impacted the behavioral health community. This year the Texas Health and Human Services Commission is launching two annual statewide awards -- one to honor a public citizen and another to recognize an elected official. If you know a citizen or elected official who you believe deserves recognition for their work in this area, please complete this form.

Award Benefits and Recognition:
• Recognized during Award Program at the Texas Behavioral Health Institute on Wednesday, August 2 between 10:30 am and 12 pm.
• Recognition on HHSC and Institute websites.
• One complimentary registration for the winner to the Texas Behavioral Health Institute.

Organization of the Year Award

The Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) values the critical role that community partners play in helping the state achieve its goal of enhancing and enriching the quality of life for persons with mental illness and/or substance addictions in Texas. This year, HHSC is launching an annual statewide award to honor an organization that collaborates within their community to provide services that truly make a difference for individuals with behavioral health needs. If you know an organization or community collaborative that you believe should be recognized for their work in this area, please complete this form.

Award Benefits and Recognition:
• Recognized during Award Program at the Texas Behavioral Health Institute on Wednesday, August 2 between 10:30 am and 12 pm.
• Recognition on HHSC and Institute websites.
• One complimentary registration for an organization representative to the Texas Behavioral Health Institute.

If you have questions, please call 877.451.8700 or email info@texinstitute.com